

Ranchi CMS VATAVARAN 2006
Environment & Wildlife Travelling Film Festival

1.0 Ranchi CMS VATAVARAN 2006 – (Photographs)

Inaugural Ceremony

View outside the venue of Ranchi CMS VATAVARAN 2006 – Environment and Wildlife Film Festival, organised jointly by CMS and Manthan Yuva Sansthan at Ranchi from Dec 7-9, 2006

Shri Sudhir Mahto, Deputy Chief Minister, Jharkhand (with charge of Forests and Environment and Industry) inaugurating the Ranchi CMS VATAVARAN 2006

Shri A. K. Singh, Chief Wildlife Warden, Jharkhand, lighting the inaugural lamp

House Full auditorium

Shri Sudhir Mahto, delivering the inaugural speech

Shri Sudhir Mahto, felicitating VATAVARAN award winning filmmaker Shri Biju Toppo

Shri Sudhir Mahto with felitated filmmakers (From left – Punam Kerketta, Diksha Prasad, Sudhir Mahto, Meghnath and Sudhir Pal)

Shri Ashwini Sinha, Festival Manager, CMS VATAVARAN, delivering CMS VATAVARAN brief at the inaugural

Ms. Priya Verma, Festival Manager, CMS VATAVARAN, delivering Vote of Thanks

Preview of Meghnath and Biju Toppo's film "Iron is Hot"

Shri Sudhir Mahto watching the inaugural film "Iron is Hot" directed by Meghnath and Biju Toppo

Meghnath and Biju Toppo answering viewers questions on their film "Iron is Hot"

A student of Ranchi University getting his points clarified from the experts

Audience commenting on films screened during the festival

Audience watching with rapt attention Ashwini Pankaj's film "Rajmahal R.I.P." as a precursor to the symposium on "Effects on Mining on Tribal Livelihoods"

Shri Sudhir Pal, Chief Coordinator, Manthan Yuva Sansthan moderating the symposium on the topic "Effects on Mining on Tribal Livelihoods"

Noted filmmaker and theatre personality Shri Ashwini Kumar Pankaj, putting forward tribal perspective during the symposium on the topic "Effects on Mining on Tribal Livelihoods"

VATAVARAN award winning filmmaker Meghnath, putting forward a filmmaker's perspective during the symposium on the topic "Effects on Mining on Tribal Livelihoods"

Shri Ravi Ranjan, DFO, Bokaro Division, Jharkhand , putting forward forest department's perspective during the symposium on the topic "Effects on Mining on Tribal Livelihoods"

Shri Arjun Prasad Jalan, President FJCCI, putting forward industry's perspective during the symposium on the topic "Effects on Mining on Tribal Livelihoods"

Shri S. K. Satpathy, Secretary Mines and Geology, Jharkhand, putting forward mining department's perspective during the symposium on the topic "Effects on Mining on Tribal Livelihoods"

Dr. Nitish Priyadarshi, Department of Environment and Water Management, J. N. College, Ranchi University, putting forward environmentalist's perspective during the symposium on the topic "Effects on Mining on Tribal Livelihoods"

Audience getting up to ask questions from distinguished panelists during the symposium on the topic "Effects on Mining on Tribal Livelihoods"

Screenings

Special screenings for children

Filmmakers Punam Kerketta, Diksha Kumari Prasad and Praven Singh interacting with children

Drawing and painting competition in progress

Drawing and painting competition in progress

Shri Sudhir Pal, Chief Coordinator, Manthan Yuva Sansthan, distributing prizes and certificates to the winning candidates of the painting and drawing competition

Winning candidates of the painting and drawing competition posing for a group photograph

